About the Sing 4 Life Breast Cancer Foundation of Arizona

This 501(c)3 nonprofit organization embraces the benefits of music as a healing therapy for patients coping with breast cancer. The foundation provides support to patients and their families through its various musical endeavors. Created in 2001 by two survivors, one a budding writer and the other a professional singer, they formed “The Soul Survivors” to gain support and strength by surrounding themselves with others afflicted with breast cancer.

Although one of the founders, Marilyn Nierenberg-Shaoul lost her battle in 2005 “The Soul Survivors” carry on and perform for free at a variety of fundraisers in the greater Phoenix area, raising money for their foundation through the sale of their CD’s and various sponsorships. The foundation also awards at least one annual scholarship to fulfill a personal educational need or project that will assist cancer patients and their families.
